Waiting and longing for you
This is my life since you went from me
'Cause you are still in my mind
Waiting and longing for you
Take away this ocean of time

'Cause you are the man
I'd put my life in your hand
I would be strong
If you said that I'm wrong
I miss you so
And I'm so sorry that I let you go

Waiting and longing for you
You took my joy when you said goodbye
Can't get you out of my mind
Waiting and longing for you
Oh, what a fool I was all the time

So many times I went out for a walk
So many times I had no time to talk
You didn't say one word that could wound my vanity
You just turned around and you said, now you are free
You went away, there was no place for you to stay
I was too proud to say that I love you
I miss you so
And I'm sorry that I let you go
